

MSBS 622 : Integrated Applications and Skills-II

This course uses case studies to reinforce the concepts learned in biomedical science courses during the semester and applying those skill to solve clinical problems. The integrated learning is effective for promoting critical thinking, enhancing interest in curricular content, and improving student understanding of core concepts. This course also designed to improve communication and interviewing skills.

Credits 1